

Community Health and Health Behavior Policy on Good Academic Standing and Probation

MPH and MS Programs

In addition to following the Graduate School policies on good academic standing and probation (<http://grad.buffalo.edu/study/progress/policylibrary.html>) the Department of Community Health and Health Behavior will adhere to the following provisions.

Students who fail to earn a full “B” or better in a required course (note that a B- does not suffice) will be placed on academic probation. They will be required to retake the course. Students who earn a full B or better upon retaking the course will have met this particular requirement for regaining good academic standing. Students who do not earn a full B or better upon repeating the course will be dismissed from the program. Students who do not earn a full B or better in an elective course will be informed that they cannot count that course toward their degree program.
